HUNDREDS DIE IN EARTHQUAKE

ARMS EMBARGO ACT CONSTITUTIONAL

SUPREME COURT IN SEVEN TO ONE COUNT ON 1934 STATUTE

LOWER COURT HAD HELD POWER DELEGATED TO THE PRESIDENT WAS INVALID

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—The 1934 arms embargo act which authorized President Roosevelt to forbid the sale of munitions in this country for use in the recent Chaco war between Bolivia and Paraguay was held constitutional today by the Supreme Court.

The government had contended a decision by the southern New York federal district court that the measure constituted an invalid delegation of legislative power to the president would "operate to nullify in large part" legislation "to preserve American neutrality."

This ruling was reversed by the supreme court in a 7 to 1 opinion delivered by Justice Sutherland.

Justice McReynolds was the lone dissenter. He held that "the court below reached the right conclusion and its judgment ought to be affirmed."

That was the only statement made in explanation of his position. There was no written dissenting opinion. Justice Stone, ill with disentery, did not participate.

Recently enacted legislation provides that "whenever the president shall find that there exists a state of war "between two or more countries" he "shall proclaim such fact" and thereafter it would be unlawful to export munitions to "to those countries."

Substitute Legislation.

This resolution expires May 1. Congress is expected to enact substitute legislation at the January session.

The 1934 measure applied only to the Chaco war. The embargo was lifted when hostilities ceased.

E. L. Smith Oil Stock Optioned To Lion Company

MEXIA, Dec. 21.—(AP)—E. L. Smith, president of the E. L. Smith Oil Company, said today approximately 225,000 shares of the company's stock had been optioned at $8.50 per share to the Lion Oil Refining Company of El Dorado, Ark., for $3,400,000.

Smith said the options expired April 1, 1937.

"All stockholders, will have the opportunity to sell their holdings at the same price in case the option is exercised," he said. "Offices of the company here will remain intact until April 1."

The deal, if consummated, would involve more than 200 producing wells with an approximate daily average of 2,000 barrels under proration.

The company owns about 2,500 developed acres in Archer, Brown, Crockett, Calahan, Hutcinson, Montague, Glasscock, Navarro, Gregg, Rusk and Upshur counties.

FUNERAL SERVICES HERE TUESDAY FOR J. W. CARPENTER, JR.

SON OF FORMER CORSICANA RESIDENT KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Funeral services for John W. Carpenter, Jr., 19, son of the president of the Texas Power and Light Co., sophomore of the University of Texas who was fatally injured in an automobile crash near Austin Saturday night, will be held at the Hamilton cemetery Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock where interment will be made. Dr. Thomas W. Currie, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, Dallas, and president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Austin, will conduct the services.

The body was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted B. Ferguson, 2020 West Fourth avenue, early Monday afternoon where it will remain until the funeral hour. Mrs. Ferguson is a cousin of the deceased.

The youth died in Seton Infirmary in Austin shortly after noon Sunday.

The accident in which Mr. Carpenter was hurt occurred four miles west of Austin on the Oak Hill road. Justice Howard Amason, Jr., Roswell, N. M., fellow student, also received fatal injuries in the crash and died a short time earlier than Carpenter. Funeral rites for Amason will be held in Austin Tuesday. Fletcher Young of Oak Hill was dangerously injured in the collision and Mrs. Will Chisholm of Bee Caves and Dorothy Faye Hendricks, riding with Mr. Young, was less seriously hurt.

Official Investigation.

Highway patrolmen and other officers immediately launched an investigation into incidents surrounding the tragedy.

Carpenter and Amason were en route home to Austin from Kerrville where they had witnessed the Kerrville-Port Arthur semi-final

SOVIET UNION IS ATTEMPTING BRAND FASCISTS PIRATES

STRONG PROTEST WILL BE LODGED ON SINKING OF RUSSIAN SHIP

LONDON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—A Russian embassy spokesman said today the Soviet Union is considering demanding of the international Spanish neutrality committee that Spanish fascist ships be declared pirates which can be sunk on sight.

Great Britain is maintaining a "hands off policy" until the Russian government determines its course concerning the alleged sinking of the motorship Konsomol, official sources declared.

"At present it is purely a Russian afafir," these sources said. "Russian officials do not seem to know exactly what has happened."

The plan to declare Spanish insurgent vessels pirate ships, the Russian embassy said, grew out of the sinking of the Russian motorship Konsomol which the Soviet government charged was done by Spanish fascist insurgents.

"The incident is considered very serious," the embassy representative said, "and deliberations now are going on in Moscow to determine what is to be done."

(Moscow dispatches said Russia would lodge a strong protest with the international non-intervention group.)

Christmas Eve Broadcast Plans Made for Pope

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Pope Pius announced his intention today of broadcasting a Christmas message to the world Thursday to "prove we are still alive."

The broadcast will be made at 12:30 p. m. (5:30 a. m. CST) on a wave length of 19.84 meters through a microphone set up in the Pope's study adjoining his bedroom where he has been confined with circulatory congestion and fever.

The 79-year-old Holy Father will be carried to his desk and placed in an armchair in front of the microphone.

The Pope persisted in making arrangements for the Christmas broadcast despite the pleading of his doctor to remain absolutely quiet.

His actions were contrary to medical orders for absolute quiet after the Pontiff suffered a fainting spell as he lay in bed yesterday.

The attack was caused, doctors said, by his irregular heart action, the result of circulatory stagnation.

TEXAS CONGRESSMAN PLANS REFORM BILLS NATION'S JUDICIARY

HATTON SUMNERS WOULD PERMIT RETIREMENT SUPREME COURT JUSTICES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Chairman Hatton Sumners (D-Texas) of the house judiciary committee proposed three judicial reform bills today, one of which would permit supreme court justices who have reached the retirement age to leave the bench to pursue lighter judicial duties.

He said he would introduce in congress a bill to make a 1919 act effective retiring district and circuit federal court judges applicable to the supreme court justices "so they, too, may be allowed to retire and be privileged to perform lighter duties in exchange for what the federal government is bound, anyway, to pay under the constitution during their life."

Under another proposal, Sumners would provide mandatory 30-day notice to the attorney general, with the privilege of intervening in a case, before a federal court judge could hold a federal law unconstitutional, thereby giving the government a chance to defend it.

He said he probably would introduce a bill to create a special tribunal composed of three judges of the circuit court of appeals designated by the chief justice of the United States to try the issue of a breach of the "good behavior" tenure clause with reference to federal judges.

ONE OF MISSING AIRLINERS FOUND ON MOUNTAINSIDE

AMELIA EARHART PUTNAM JOINS IN SEARCH FOR THE OTHER MISSING PLANE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 21.—(AP)—One of two airliners lost in the west was found today, both occupants believed dead, as Amelia Earhart Putnam joined the search for the other vanished craft, missing with seven persons.

Lieut. Byron Cooper, National Guard pilot, radioed to Spokane, Wash., he had sighted in Northern Idaho, wreckage of the Northwest Airlines transport missing on a flight from St. Paul to Spokane since Friday.

"There is no question but that both men are dead," the flyer said, "because we sighted the wings about 200 feet down the mountainside from where the fuselage appears to be."

The occupants of the craft, carrying 500 pounds of mail, were Pilot Joe Livermore and Co-Pilot Arthur A. Haid.

A ground party was organized to start the tortuous journey to the reported scene of disaster, on Cemetery Ridge, near Calder, Idaho.

Mrs. Putnam, famed air conquerer of two oceans, arrived unexpectedly with her technical adviser, Paul Mantz, to help seek a Western Airlines plane lost since last Tuesday. Shanging an earlier plan, she suddenly announced she was "going to Brigham City on a clue of my own."

She would not discuss details. Her flight, however, coincided

Clemency Grants Expected to Free 700 Prisoners

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Some 700 of "the numbers" will not answer Christmas Day roll call in the nation's prisons.

They'll be gone, released because they've been given the finest Christmas present within the power of a dozen states—pardons or paroles.

However, in at least 20 other states the prisoners will eat the prison chicken or roast beef as usual because these commonwealths frown on the holiday parole custom.

The most spectacular instance of Christmas leniency disclosed by an Associated Press survey was in Alabama. Governor Bibb Graves on Dec. 17 released 494 convicts, including 23 women, for two weeks on their "man to man" agreement to return Jan. 1 It's an annual practice.

"No Christmas paroles" was the word from these states:

CHINA GOVERNMENT CALLED FOR SWIFT MILITARY ACTION

SEEK TO RESCUE CHIANG KA-SHEK IN FACE SPREADING REVOLT REPORTS

NANKING, Dec. 21.—(AP)—China called for swift military action today to rescue Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in the face of reports that the Sianfu rebellion had spread to mountainous Kansu Province.

General Yu Hsueh-Chung, chairman of the Kansu Provincial government, staged a sudden coup at the Provincial capital, Lanchow, unconfirmed reports reaching Shanghai said, and declared in favor of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang.

Dr. T. V. Soong, brother-in-law of the generalissimo, returned to Nanking today and immediately called a conference of the Soong and Chiang families.

Dr. Soong was understood to have been at Sianfu conferring informally with the rebellious marshal on terms to free Generalissimo Chiang.

Nanking officialdom interpreted the development as a hopeful sign Marshal Chang was "ready to see reason."

Troops of General Yu, former henchman of the mutinous Marshal Chang, the reports said, raided the bureau of public safety, disarmed police and ransacked the headquarters of the provincial pacification commissioner.

Adding to the fears that Lanchow might be in rebellion was the fact no reports had been received from American missionaries there. Foreigners in the other Western provinces, including Shensi, seat

STRIKE SITUATION VARIED INDUSTRIES NATION UNCHANGED

POSSIBLE BREAK IN SHIPPING LABOR TROUBLES REPORTED SEEN

(By The Associated Press)

Union and employer spokesmen sighted a possible break in the 53-day-old Pacific coast maritime strike today in the form of a tentative agreement submitted to members of the sailors union.

On another strike front the automotive industry began feeling the pinch of a walkout by 26,000 glass, auto and auto parts workers, with little headway apparent in efforts to reach accord.

At Pittsburgh steel workers launched an attempt to supplant company unions with the form of industrial organization advocated by John L. Lewis. Claiming to represent 290,000 men in 42 eastern mills, 244 delegates organized the committee for industrial organization's representatives council to carry on the campaign.

An unsuccessful conference Saturday night left unshaken a strike of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company workers, but Glen W. McCabe, president of their union, said the workers and management of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Company, tied up by a "sympathy" walkout, were "not far apart." A total of more than 14,000 glass workers were out.

The automobile industry, affected by the glass strike, was further hampered by idleness of more than 12,000 craftsmen of bodies, wheels and other car parts.

WALLY SIMPSON WILL REMAIN IN CANNES RETREAT

INDICATIONS ARE SHE WILL NOT SEE FORMER KING UNTIL DIVORCE

CANNES, France, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Wallis Warfield Simpson cleared away the mystery surrounding her immediate future today with a plain indication she would not see the man who gave up the throne of England for her until her divorce is absolute.

The statement that Mrs. Simpson was remaining at her haven in Cannes for "several months," and "there is absolutely no possibility" she will see Edward of Windsor until spring was made by Herman Rogers, her Riviera host, as Mrs. Simpson held a formal press conference for the first time in her life.

In the end it turned out to be more of a social reception than an interview. Adroitly Mrs. Simpson discussed the beauty of the Riviera, the weather and the dangers of driving over mountain roads.

With a gracious, happy air she joined in the general conversation in the beautiful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers' Villa Lou Viei yesterday afternoon, but she left it to her host and spokesman to answer the two questions all the world was asking:

When would she see the Duke of Windsor?

When would they be wed?

The answer to the first was not "for several months" and to the second only silence.

SAN VICENTE, IN EL SALVADOR, LAID WASTE BY TREMOR

TOWN PRACTICALLY RAZED AND 200 DEAD DUG FROM RUINS IN FEW HOURS

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Officials expressed fears today of a mounting death toll in the devastating earthquake which razed almost all San Vicente and killed at least 200 per sons over the weekend.

Persons arriving in San Salvador from the stricken provincial capital told stories of wholesale ruin, of scattered buildings and homes, and of rescuers digging out some 200 bodies in the first few hours after the quake.

How high the deaths would reach no one would estimate but government officials dispatched all relief available to the area.

Accurate reports were made increasingly difficult to obtain because of the disrupted communications between the quake area and San Salvador.

Telegraph and telephone lines were ripped down by the quakes and information could be had only from those who fled inland from the scene.

The quake, which first stuck the sleeping city of San Vicente Saturday night, crashed in buildings and shook the earth in villages nearby, eyewitnesses said.

Refugees Flee From Volcano

Refugees, with their families and household belongings, fled along rural roads trying to reach safety from the ever-menacing volcano Santa Rita, southeast of San Vicente, which some refugees said was erupting.

Adding to the fears of molten lava pouring from the volcano over the wrecked city was the specter of epidemics. Much of San Vincente's supply of drinking water was poisoned by sulphur apparently exuding from the smok-

Argument Over Dollar Brings Death to Couple

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 21.—(AP)—An argument about a dollar to buy Christmas gifts for two of their five children led to the deaths of Anthony McNear, 45, of nearby Terra Alta, and his wife, Mrs. Pearl McNear, 35.

Coroner Leroy C. Goff said McNear fired four shots into Mrs. McNear's body yesterday and sent another into his own temple. The tragedy occurred while the children were at Sunday school.

The McNears were estranged. McKinley Sypolt, 17-year-old nephew of Mrs. McNear, said the husband came to the home and demanded the dollar for Christmas gifts. In the ensuing argument he said his aunt was knocked down.

The shots rang out as the youth ran to the street calling for help.

FORTHCOMING CONGRESS FACES MATTER OF CONSTITUTION WITH TWO ROADS THAT MAY BE TAKEN

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The 75th Congress, elected in the landslide which returned President Roosevelt to the White House, convenes January 5, decided by recommendations of the chief executive, this predominantly democratic legislature will seek to interpret into law public sentiment expressed at the polls. In a series of five stories by staff writers who have specialized in their field, the Washington Bureau of the Associated Press will outline some major issues waiting solution.

(The first story discusses constitutional problems raised by labor and farm demands on one side and Supreme Court decisions on the other.)

By EDWARD J. DUFFY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The forthcoming congress is widely expected to go down in history either as an adept stepper within the constitution as it stands or the proposer of an amendment to enlarge federal powers.

In the political campaign, President Roosevelt and his leaders rededicated themselves to NRA and AAA objectives and promised "action." After running on a record which showed a six to three score against the administration in the supreme court, they have interpreted the overwhelming victory as a mandate to carry on.

The way arriving legislators talk indicates the budetary, neutrality and other debates may all be conducted before that broad backdrop of differences over fundamentals.

BELIEVED KEY TO MARITIME STRIKE PEACE BEEN FOUND

REPRESENTATIVES OF TWO BRANCHES OF SEAMEN REACH AGREEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Representatives of sailors and shore ship operators today offered a tentatively approved agreement as the hoped-for key to peace in the Pacific coast maritime strike.

The proposed settlement for the sailors is the first formally presented to any of the seven striking unions since they walked out 53 days ago.

Both Harry Lundenberg, head of the sailors punion of the Pacific, and Thomas G. Plant of the shipowners' committee expressed hopes the barriers to full settlement of the strike were finally broken.

"The sailors want to show the other unions the way home," said Lundenberg as he prepared to

BUFFALO BAYOU, TRAVERSING CITY OF HOUSTON, IS TEXAS STREAM THAT IS FLOOD THREAT

(NOTE:—This is another in a series of stories by the Associated Press explaining various flood control projects in Texas).

By Lewis T. NORDYKE

HOUSTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Buffalo bayou, a steep-sloped stream is one of the hardest to control which local groups and the government have tackled.

Bottle-necked by business buildings erected on its banks in the downtown area and by numerous bridges, the stream has become a threat to a seven mile long section of Houston and to the ship channel.

A year of flood waters from western Harris county and part of Waller county swept down the bayou, taking five lives, damaging business property, threatening the most exclusive residential division and dumped so much silt and debris in the turning basin that shipping was interrupted several days.

That flood and demanding property owners along the stream put new life in flood control plans which now are under the consideration of army engineers.

The flood control project is estimated to cost around $10,000,000 to $14,000,000.

Two plans were presented Lieut.-Colonel E. H. Marks, U. S. Army engineer for the district.

The plans offered by the city would widen the stream, ease the bends and eliminate the bottleneck, letting it flow, as now, into the ship channel and on into Galveston Bay. City engineers said that plan would involve at least $14,000,000, part of which the government will be asked to furnish.

The port commission presented a plan calling for diversion of the stream from its present course, steering it around the south end of the city and finally into Galveston Bay through a diversion channel about 35 to 40 miles long. That plan, on which the cost had not been estimated, would divert the stream from the ship channel.

Both plans were presented to army engineers. After discussing the situation with the engineers, the various local groups decided to form a county-wide flood control district, which would be created only through an enactment by the legislature.

FEDERAL EDUCATION OFFICE GIVES THREE WAYS MOTHERS MAY WRECK SANTA CLAUS MYTH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—This is for mothers only.

If the doors are locked and the shades drawn against inquisitive youngsters, we'll discuss Santa Claus.

You'll have to decide for yourself if the children should be told the truth about the jolly old saint, but if you want to tell them, there are at least three ways to do it, the U. S. office of education said today:

1. The brutal way. The weary parent says, "Son, brace yourself. This is going to hurt me as much as it hurts you. But there isn't any Santa Claus." No guarantee of results accompanies this method.

2. The demonstration method. This costs money, but modern visual education theories commend it. Daddy dresses up in the red garb of Santa, frolics with his children, and unmasks to show them who Santa is or isn't. This method is guaranteed to disillusion children, but whether they get disillusioned about Santa or daddy is open to argument.

3. The legend method. Mother had better take over this one. She picks a cozy overstuffed chair before a fireplace. The lights are dim. In her most soothing story-telling voice, she tells her trusting offspring Christmas legends. She relates the story of St. Nicholas and gently explains Santa is a

LANDON VISITED ROOSEVELT TODAY AT WHITE HOUSE

RECENT REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY IN JOVIAL MOOD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—For nearly an hour today, President Roosevelt and his defeated republican rival for the presidency—Governor Alm M. Landon of Kansas—chatted in the White House about Christmas and children.

Telling reporters about his visit, the governor said "the President talked about his grandchildren and I talked about mine, but not my grandchildren."

Landon, who is here for the Gridiron Club dinner tonight, shook his head and said "no" when asked whether politics, the campaign, relief, the drought or other subjects had been discussed.

LOCAL CAGERS TAKE BARDWELL BY SCORE OF 23-19 IN FINALS

BLUES DEFEATED BAZETTE IN SEMI-FINALS ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

By JOHN SAM HASLAM,
Sun Sports Staff.

A favorite from the start, Corsicana high school's "Blues" won the tenth annual Y. M. C. A. boys' invitation basketball tournament Saturday night on the Y court, defeating Bardwell High school 23-19, after weathering a field of 19 starters. Saturday's schedule was replete with thrills for basketball fans.

Bryan won the third-place consolation title by defeating Bazette 21-20.

Corsicana High school's "Blues" won their semi-final tilt 32-26 Saturday afternoon against Bazette, and went into the final game. In the second semi-final game Bardwell defeated Bryan 30-14.

Results in the quarter-final games were:

The high school "Blues" defeated Fairfield 29-19 and Bryan eliminated Ben Wheeler 21-16. Bazette played an extra-period game to defeat Emhouse 38-32. As the four quarters ended the two squads were deadlocked 30-all. In the last quarter-final game Bardwell took out the high school's "Golds" 32-15.

Thirll of Tournament.

The real thrill of the tournament came in the third place game Saturday night. Nearing the end of the game Bazette had a one-point lead over Bryan, the score being 20-19. A Bryan forward let the ball fly toward the basket, and while it was still in the air the whistle blew ending the game. The ball looped through the basket, giving Bryan two points, and a belated one point win over Bazette for third place title.

C. F. Broughton, Y. M. C. A. physical director, in charge of the tournament, announced today an all-tournament team will be selected within the near future. The awarding of trophies was postponed for the time being, and will be given at a banquet to be given by the Y. M. C. A. sometime after the completion of the girls' division of the Y. M. C. A.-sponsored county basketball tournament.

The annual Y. M. C. A. boys' invitation basketball tournament has been restricted to Navarro county teams the past nine years, but its popularity during that time made Y. M. C. A. officials enlarge it to take in several teams in surrounding counties this year. Out-of-county teams this year were Fairfield, Ben Wheeler and Bardwell.

Following are the box scores of Saturday's games:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY ASKS CO-OPERATION MOTORISTS

AUSTIN, Dec. 19.—(AP)—The department of public safety which forsees the heaviest holiday travel in many years, asks the motoring public to co-operate in the statewide safety movement to reduce accidents.

The department advised motorists to have brakes, horn, steering gear, and windshield visibility inspected before starting on holiday trips.

A few "don'ts" that would contribute to safety were given as follows:

Don't forget the golden rule.

Don't forget to keep on the right side of the road on hills and curves.

Don't forget to sound horn on sharp curves and when passing other vehicles.

Don't forget the state speed law is 45 miles per hour for passenger automobiles on open highway and 20 miles through cities and towns.

Don't mistake every red light for a tail light. It may be a danger light.

Don't speed up when about to be overtaken by a vehicle from behind.

Don't try to drive the same rate of speed at night as in daytime.

Don't forget to properly signal for turns, slowing down or stopping.

Don't forget there is a human in every car.

PLANES

with a report from a farmer near that Northern Utah valley city that he heard a "crash of some kind" last Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Putnam planned to return to Salt Lake City later in the day.

About the same time, a new report of mysterious radio signals that could have come from a grounded plane once more raised faint hope for the five men and two women missing in the Western air craft.

At Sacramento, Calif., M. R. Williamson said he picked up an unidentified radio call—a man's weak voice.

"Come quick. Cannot open door."

Other unidentified radio calls heard Saturday, had been discounted by search leaders.

Wreckage of Missing Mail Plane Sighted

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Lieut. Byron Cooper, National Guard pilot, radioed Felts Field at 10:30 o'clock this morning he had sighted what he believed to be wreckage of the missing Northwest Airlines transport plane on Cemetery Ridge, near Calder, Idaho.

Cooper's brief message said only that he had found the ship, and that he could not determine whether Pilot Joe Livermore and Co-Pilot Arthur A. Haid were alive.

Cemetery Ridge is in the St. Joe national forest, midway between Wallace and Calder, Idaho. It is heavily timbered with white pine.

From reports received from forest workers and others, it is believed the big Lockheed Electra plane, carrying mail from St. Paul to Spokane, crashed about 5 a. m., Pacific Standard time, Friday morning as Pilot Livermore sought in fog to return to the radio beam he was following to Spokane. He was blown off his course.

Organize Rescue Party.

A rescue party was being organized at Kellogg, north of the Ridge, to go into the isolated area on foot. All planes searching for the missing ship in the mountain country south of Calder were immediately called in by A. R. Mensing, division superintendent of Northwest Airlines.

"It was 9:30 when we first saw a dark spot on the side of Cemetery Ridge," Cooper said later by long distance telephone from the Kellog airport.

"The wreckage is a short distance from the top of the ridge, at an elevation of 4,000 feet, I would say. We flew low over the wreckage for about 10 minutes.

"There is no question but that both men are dead because we sighted the wings about 200 feet down the mountainside from where the fusulage appears to be. The forest in that vicinity was burned over in 1910, and the wreckage is out in a clearing. I could not say whether the fuselage burned or not as the weather was poor and visibility was bad as we circled over the scene."

Superintendent Mensing took of immediately by plane for Kellogg to direct the rescue party, which must reach the wreckage on foot.

Reward Is Offered.

By The Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Admitting "every clue exhausted" in the week-old hunt for a lost Western Air Express plane, officials posted a $1,000 reward and announced a new search today "on our own."

The air line offered the reward, effective until noon January 4, for discovery of the Los Angeles-Salt Lake transport lost with five men and two women since last Tuesday.

The ship, last reported over Milford, in southwestern Utah, is sought in that vicinity and northward and in east central Nevada.

Five hundred miles northwestward, a statement by Ranger M. T. Olmstead turned to a new sector in north Idaho the hunt for Pilot Joe Livermore, Co-Pilot A. A. Hair, and their Northwest Airlines transport, missing since 3:19 a. m. Friday.

Livermore last reported over Elk River, Idaho. The search had centered between there and Spokane, Olmstead said, however, the transport flew low over the forest service station at Calder, 40 miles north of Elk River, about 4:15 a. m. Friday, then turned westward toward Spokane.

Similar reports by three other Calder residents prompted extension of the land and air search to the region today. But Pilot Roy Shreck, saying "we combed every ridge and canyon in the Calder area," discounted the new lead.

In all other respects, hopes of a "find" in either search diminished as one clue after another failed to develop.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Department of commerce inspectors combed the wreckage of a giant airliner today to determine the cause of a mountainside crash Saturday night in which 11 persons miraculously escaped death or serious injury.

Meanwhile Dick Merrill, trans-Atlantic flier whose skill brought the 14-passenger Pan-American, Eastern Airlines transport down without loss of life, lay in a hospital with possible fractures of the jaw and ankle.

The storm-tossed ship fell in a wild wooded section near Matamoras, Pa., junction of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania boundary lines, narrowly missing a cliff in its plunge.

ARMS EMBARGO

The majority decision said "it is quite apparent that if, in the maintenance of our international relations, embarassment—perhaps serious embarrassment—is to be avoided and success for our arms achieved, congressional legislation which is to be made effective through negotiation and inquiry within the internationale must accord to the president a degree of discretion and freedom from statutory restriction which would not be admissible were domestic affairs alone invilved.

"He, not congress, has the better opportunity of knowing the conditions which prevail in foreign countries, and especially is this true in time of war."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—A ruling on litigation involving constitutionality of the Frazier-Lemke act granting a three-year moratorium on farm mortgage foreclosures was promised today by the supreme court.

It agreed to pass on an appeal by Robert Page Wright of Bedford county, Va., from a decision by the fourth circuit court of appeals holding the act unconstitutional.

The circuit court had affirmed a decision by the Western Virginia federal district court in afvor of the Vinton branch of the Countain Trust Bank of Roanoke, Va.

Explaining there had been a number of conflicting decisions on the legislation by lower courts, Wright said the "necessity for one uniform statement of the law is not only apparent but is an economic necessity."

A similar five-year moratorium measure was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court on teh ground that it deprived creditors of property rights.

Another case challenging the substitute law was denied a review last October 12. A supreme court decision was requested, however, without waiting for the customary ruling by the circuit court of appeals.

about his South American trip and I told him about my fishing trip to Florida."

"We swapped fishing lies," he added with a broad grin.

"Did the President say he was sorry you didn't win?"

"He didn't have any ideas about that."

Landon was in a jovial mood as he entered and left the White House. Dozens of stenographers and clerks strove to get a glimpse of him.

Smiling broadly, the governor drove up to the executive offices in the automobile of William Castle, Jr., undersecretary of state in the Hoover administration.

After posing for dozens of photographs, Landon greeted a woman correspondent for a Maine newspaper, Elisabeth May Craig.

"Well," he said smiling, "if I'd known you were here I would have had some news for the boys."

When a photographer tugged at Landon's sleeve for one more picture, he took the arm of the woman reporter and said:

"Wait a minute, this is Maine, you know."

A flash light blub held by one of the photographers burst, causing the governor to remark:

"Now we don't want any accidents boys; I got through the campaign all right."

Mr. Roosevelt invited his former republican opponent to call shortly after the latter's arrival from Baltimore where he was a guest last night at a dinner of renowned Maryland fare.

Both winner and loser will make "off the record" speeches at tonight's dinner of the Gridiron Club.

Corsicana Tigers To Invade Blooming Grove Monday Night

BLOOMING GROVE, Dec. 19.—(Staff Special)—Blooming Grove high school basketeers will clash with the fast-stepping Corsicana High Tigers on Isbell Hall court here Monday night. A hotly contested battle is anticipated as the Bengals from Corsicana are more powerful than the teams of the immediate past few campaigns while the local contingent has been winning consistently this season.

Blooming Grove five has won three of the four games played thus far this year.

The Blooming Grove team will meet the Irene contingent at Bynum Saturday night in one of the tilts of the Bynum invitation tournament.

MERCHANTS DONATE SWEATERS BOYS OF FOOTBALL ELEVEN

COACH JOHN PIERCE OF CORSICANA WAS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER OF BANQUET

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor.

Members of the 1936 Blooming Grove high school football team were honor guests at a banquet held in "Isbell Hall," fine new gymnasium at Blooming Grove, Friday evening. The affair was sponsored by the girls pep squad. A fine banquet was served. Letters were awarded and business men and fans raised funds for sweaters for the boys. John A. Pierce, head football coach of Corsicana high school, was the principal speaker for the occasion.

Odessa Hollingsworth, leader of the pep squad, was the toastmaster for the occasion.

A loud speaker system for the broadcasting of basketball games and a public address system for the school building has been installed.

Dr. C. C. Kelsey gave the invocation and rendered the benediction.

The banquet was served by the Home Economics department of which Miss Opal Allmon is the teacher.

Supt. C. C. Isbell introduced Coach Pierce as "just as good a coach this year while his team lost as when he was winning district championships each year," and paid a tribute to the Bengal mentor as an exponent of clean athletics.

Benefits of Game

The Corsicana coach outlined the benefits of football to the boys, fans, and citizenship from physical, mental and moral standpoints in their future lives. He declared that brains as well as strength is necessary to win in football. The speaker outlined the close friendships made in football that extended into later life.

"Being good losers is being overdone," Pierce declared, and explained that losers should lose with good spirits, but stated that if a person lost and "liked it," they would not go as far as they should.

"We teach our boys to believe in winning fairly and cleanly," the Tiger coach continued.

Coach Pierce paid considerable attention to the evils of athletics when not properly handled and controlled, mentioning overtrained muscles and nerves of the boys unless the coaches are careful, gambling and drinking at athletic contests on the part of some spectators, etc. He declared that those evils could be curbed to a considerable extent, however, if the leaders would exercise the right attitude.

Sam Carroll, representing the exes, complimented the team on its attitude and its fighting spirit despite a losing season.

Supt. Isbell called the names of the individual fans and business firms who furnished the money for the sweaters for the football boys and for the jackets for the three football coaches.

Other speakers included Coach Ralph Hooker, Assistant Coaches John Ross and Clyde Martin, several of the football boys and the writer.

Lettermen Named.

Lettermen announced and introduced included Damon Holditch, co-captain, senior; Red Hewitt, senior; Selwyn Bacon, manager; Ralph George, junior; Jack Griffin, senior; Johnnie B. McClure, captain, senior; Eathen Melton, senior; Hardy Butler, senior; Alva Meador, senior; Bruce Meador, sophomore; H. D. AGED WEARER OF RED SHIRTS FATHER OF EMHOUSE WOMAN

The following article noted on the front page of Friday morning's Dallas News under the caption, "Wears Red Shirts for 50 Years to Cure Rheumatism; Dies at 93," will be of especial interest to the friends of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Bristow of Emhouse, and their son, Roy Bristow and family of this city, as the deceased was the father of Mrs. W. C. Bristow and the grandfather of Roy Bristow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bristow and two children, Charles Roy and Betty, and Dr. Bristow joined Mrs. W. C. Bristow Friday at her father's home near Athens, for the funeral services.

Following is the article referred to:

Palestine, Texas, Dec. 17.—Bradley (Red Shirt) Miller, 93, who wore red flannel shirts constantly for more than fifty years because they seemed to relieve his rheumatism, died Thrusday at his farm home south of Athens, in Henderson county.

A colorful character of the Old South with Ozarkian dialect and firm political convictions, Miller was famous throughout East Texas for his personality as well as his red shirts. Old-timers here recall that Miller once suffered from rheumatism and he spent time and money in seeking a cure. Finally when in Palestine one day he conferred with the late Dr. Ed Link, who suggested he try red flannel shirts, medicated. Miller went to a mercantile store and bought a whole bolt.

Whether by coincidence or not, his rheumatism vanished and never returned. Friends rubbed their eyes when he first came out with a red flannel shirt, but persons for two generations became accustomed to it, as he wore them year in and year out, through all seasons. Only once did he declare a moratorium. During the World War red flannel was scarce and he switched to white flannel. But he changed back soon after the armistice was signed, because, he told friends, red doesn't show tobacco stains as clearly as white.

Miller was a veteran of the Confederate army. He was a friend of John H. Reagan, Gov. Tom Campbell, Col. George A. Wright and many other men who made East Texas history. Funeral services will be held at the family plot Friday. He is survived by three sons and one daughter.

THINGS TO COME

The President, according to Washington tips, "has a popular backing so powerful that, politically speaking, he can serve the nation with nearly as strong a hand as any European dictator." What is going to happen? Here are some of the guesses:

The nation is entering a new economic era, which may be one of remarkable progress and enrichment.

The press will treat the administration fairly, because papers are fairer than they used to be, and anyway "unfairness is poor business."

The government will continue its efforts to circulate money, but not so much through huge expenditures for public works and relief. Its main purpose will be to redistribute income, to raise living standards and purchasing power among the lower groups.

It will continue striving for shorter working hours and higher wages, and may not seek constitutional amendment for it, but may ask for laws enabling union labor to do the fighting.

The social security plans will go ahead, with such changes in administration and care of accumulated funds as may be suggested by experience.

Trade treaties will be pushed along the lines already established by Secretary Hull.

There will be a closer line-up of the United States and the Latin-American republics, to promote trade and safeguard ourselves against Old World wars.

Taxes will probably remain for a while about as they are.

Strong efforts will be made to control the expected business boom.

A UNITED FRONT

It seems clear that some form of closer association than has been established by the Pan - American Union will grow out of the Argentine peace conference. There has been, so far, a remarkable spirit of mutual confidence and co-operation.

The main difficulty is likely to be found not in the action of the delegates at Buenos Aires but in the ratification of their acts by their home governments. It takes considerable time, at best, for 21 congresses to provide the legislation to make effective the commitments of their presidents and diplomats. The best proof of this is that most of the American governments in whose names the Montevideo pact was signed three years ago have not yet enacted the enabling laws.

Meanwhile co-operative action is needed particularly on the neutrality question. A little World War is already going on in Spain, participated in diplomatically and militarily by several nations. It might spread rapidly. The European situation is more menacing than it has been since 1918. If there is anything likely to drag us and our neighbors into a new Armageddon, it is the munition trade that dragged us in last time.

The best thing that we and our neighbors could do, for ourselves and for the world, would be to line up quickly in a neutrality pact that would establish a united embargo on the sale of basic war materials to foreign powers. That would cost us all money for the time being, but it would save us vast treasure and life in the long run.

Cupid may be mighty, but he doesn't know politics.

JUST FOLKS

JOY AND GRIEF

Pleasure-seking now they go,
Lightly holding solemn vows,
Thinking always they can know
More of joy than life allows.

None can tell them life is long;
None can tell them care is good
Or that sorrow makes them strong
When it's rightly understood.

Pleasure nothing real bestows
As the years go winging by.
Happier by far are those
Who have had a child to die.

Sorrows are the joys we keep,
Pleasures are the joys we lose.
Happier are those who weep
Than are they who tears refuse.

When the strength to dance has flown
So much sadder is the sigh
Of the hopes who've never known
What it really means to cry.

CATCHING UP IN PRODUCTION

Talk of business slowing up or stabilizing soon near the present level is probably premature. Production lately in various industries, to be sure, has been greater than it was in 1929, but there are now perhaps 7,000,000 more people in the country than there were seven or eight years ago, all with the needs they had then, and also a heavy deficit of things that most of us failed to get during the depression.

The National Industrial Conference Board, figuring industrial products on a per capita basis, which is the fair way to do it, finds that we really are getting more of some products now than we did in 1929—for example plate glass, tobacco, boots and shoes. But obviously a large part of this increase represents the effort to catch up on deferred supplies.

On a per capita basis we're still considerably behind normal requirements for automobiles, clothing, meat, sugar, flour, rubber tires, iron and steel and zinc and coke and tin and almost countless other products, especially those going into home-building. The business recovery should last at least until we have made up our deficits in these things. And indeed it should last longer; for in the meantime, if we run true to the past, we shall be wanting more things than we ever had before and thus providing a larger market per capita. That is the way it should be when the capitalist system works properly.

DANCING AGAINST PARALYSIS

Plans are already started for the fourth annual birthday balls to be held all over the country on January 30, to raise funds for fighting infantile paralysis. The date is set by President Roosevelt's own birthday. Of the funds so raised—and they ran into millions last year—30 per cent goes to the Warm Springs Infantile Paralysis Foundation in Georgia. The remaining 70 per cent is used in the communities in which it is raised.

The war on infantile paralysis is an important one which would have gone on more slowly without the birthday balls. They dramatize the need and give the public a chance to do a good deal while having a good time.

KING'S ENGLISH

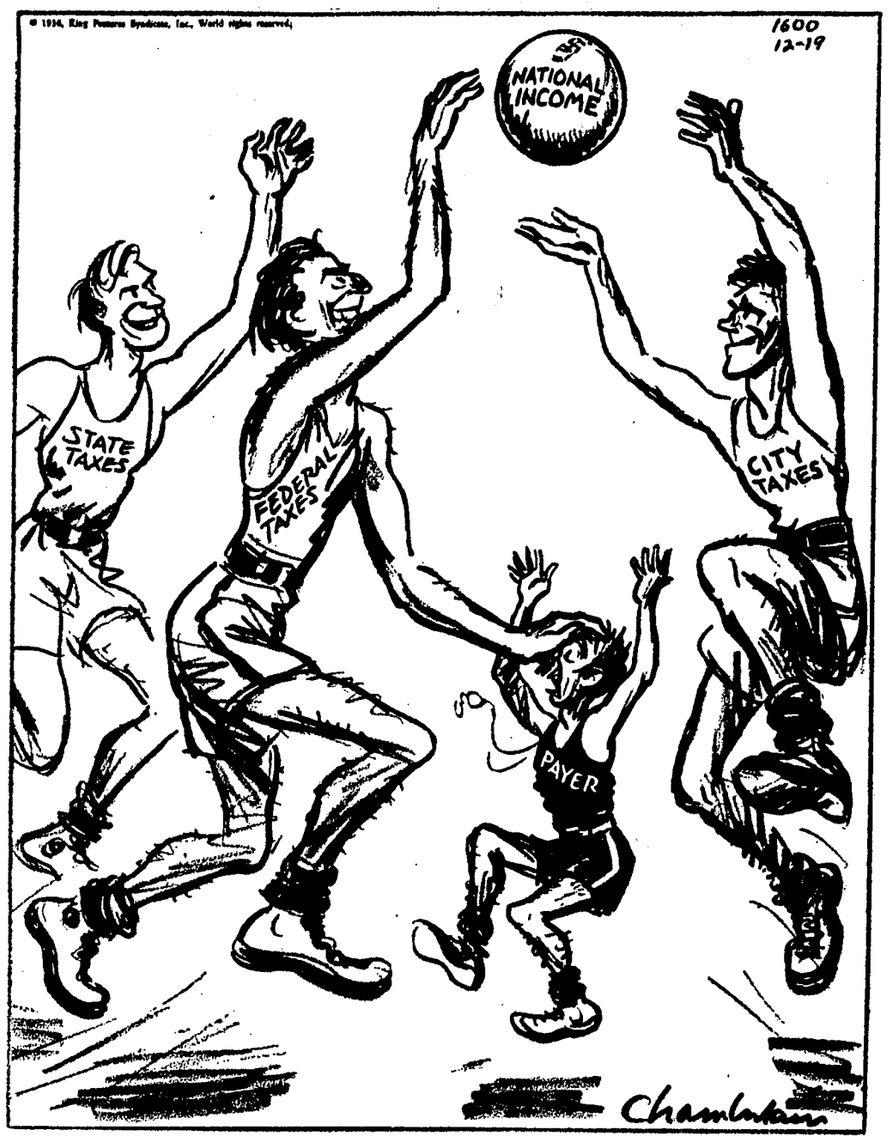

There is something to it. We shall make no more scurrilous use of that old phrase, "the King's English." Anyone who listened to Edward's farewell broadcast to the people of the British Empire must have felt the quality of his speech, along with the quality of the speaker. Anyone with a bit of literary taste must have been impressed by reading it, without the voice and presence of the man himself.

Simple, clear and strong, couched in short and common terms, with no straining for effect, made powerful by sincerity and suppressed feeling, that quietly spoken speech was great drama and great oratory. In a time given to exaggerated diction, long words and fancy phrases, it shames professional speakers and scribblers.

For its historic importance, its romantic setting and its own excellence, that little speech will probably be read as long as the English language lasts.

DRESS CLOTHES IN MOSCOW

The Soviet Union has got around to the matter of dress clothes for men. First harbinger of an advance in men's fashions was a window display in a store in the center of Moscow. It consisted of a dinner jacket, a morning coat with gray-striped trousers and a tailcoat.

There was an immediate demand for these garments, but none of the customers who went in to purchase were able to do so. The models were unusually large and all of one size. The manager of the store said the window display definitely heralded the return of formal dress to Russia, but apparently that recrudescence must wait until tailors or government make clothes for average size men.

It is said further that there are as yet no shirts, collars, ties or shoes to go with the dress suits. Nor are there any top hats. Such apparel, worn at affairs for the diplomatic corps, must be brought in from outside of Russia.

It is the sort of situation critical people in other lands like to call "typically Russian." But the Soviets will probably work out a five-year plan for clothes one of these times and overcome their sartorial deficiencies.

PROPERTY AND JOBS

Regarding this little problem of Social Security, a significant comment comes from Columnist Frank Kent of the Baltimore Sun, one of the most vigorous champions of laissez-faire.

He now advises conservatives to "accept the fact that stocks, bonds and real estate are not the only form of property; that a vast number of people have none of that kind of property; that what they have and all they have is a job; that this job is property to them, and they are just as much entitled to be protected in it as the taxpayer is to protection of his property. For the tax-paying class to take any other view is to risk a time when no one will have any property to protect."

CAUTION AT LLOYDS

There is supposed to be some alarm in the war offices of various governments because Lloyds have stopped insuring against war damage. Yet it does not necessarily mean that they expect war soon. They have merely become cautious after looking at pictures of the ruin and destruction in Madrid and hearing the report of a parliamentary group that visited Spain. A few well aimed bombs from the air could do a lot of damage in London.

Perhaps Lloyds are feeling particularly cautious just now because the abdication of Edward VIII has cost them about $500,000. Insurance against postponement of the coronation applies specifically to Edward's coronation, and must be paid even if his brother is crowned on the date originally set.

That's businesslike. Nevertheless, caution on the part of Lloyds is just a little disillusioning after the tradition that Lloyds of London will insure anything any time.

CONSTABLE POWELL NAMES DEPUTY FOR HIS TERM OFFICE

Ocie Renfrow, well known peace officer of Corsicana, will be deputy constable of Precinct 1, after Jan. 1, 1937, according to Clarence Powell, who takes office as constable of the precinct at the beginning of the new year.

Renfrow served as a member of the Corsicana police force for seven years.

Powell will succeed W. B. Grantham as constable of the precinct.

The announcement Saturday by Powell of his deputy marks the first newly-elected official to publicly name his deputy for the next year.

Other officials to name deputies and assistants have declined to announce their selections thus far, and in a number of instances have said they had not definitely decided on those to get the appointments.

Stolen Nitro Used To Blow Safe Open

MEXIA, Dec. 18.—(Spl.)—As expected by police officials the nitro glycerine sticks stolen from the American Supply company's warehouse on Coppers Creek last week were put to a nefarious purpose, when a safe of a Buffalo business house was blown open, and $200 in cash stolen. The place of business robbed was the store of T. A. Calhum.

Buffalo is located 40 miles southeast of here. The cap and explosive were identified as being stolen from the powder house here.

QUICK CONGRESS APPROVAL SOUGHT FOR RELIEF FUND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Quick congress approval was sought today for President Roosevelt's request for an immediate $500,000,000 relief appropriation.

Current funds are expected to last only another month, making action necessary early in January if the relief work program is to proceed without interruption.

Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday he would ask for the appropriation, designed to meet Works Progress Administration costs until June 30, during the first week of congress. It convenes on January 5.

The president, in disclosing his request for the special appropriation and a study of methods to count the unemployed, said he had taken no action to stop cuts in Works Progress Administration rolls.

Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, began the reduction late in the fall, describing it as an attempt to get rid of those who do not ned relief. He said recently the number on the rolls probably would remain throughout the winter near the November level of 2,478,042.

Mr. Roosevelt last month said he was studying a self-registration plan by which the jobless would present themselves each month to be recorded.

The self-registration idea first was advanced by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator, who declared a house-to-house canvass would cost $15,000,000 to $20,000,000. Johnson's plan was represented as costing about 10 per cent as much.

FAIRFIELD STREETS BE IMPROVED; BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

FAIRFIELD, Dec. 19.—(Spl.)—Work orders have been received for the Fairfield re-gravelling project, under the WPA. Work will begin Monday, December 28th, and require four months to complete. Every street in the city will be regravelled and treated.

Albert McIlveen, Jr., was accidentally shot Saturday afternoon while bird hunting with three other boys about three miles south of town. A stray shot pierced the ball of the right eye. He was rushed to a Corsicana hospital where he received treatment, returning home Monday. His condition is not thought to be serious.

Three Freestone county men were arrested this week in connection with the tapping of the Humble pipe line about twelve miles east of Fairfield. They were later released under $500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. It is reported that the main line was tapped, but could not be controlled and about 900 barrels of casinghead gasoline was lost before the leak was repaired.

of the uprising, had reported their safety.

Jap Ambassador Arrives.

Shigeru Kawagoe, the Japanese ambassador, arrived from Shanghai to be closer to the seat of the government during the crisis.

It was reported he carried word from his government Japan was deeply concerned over any terms of settlement that might be reached and if they were detrimental to Japanese interests, Tokyo would be rompelled to act.

Troops of the Nanking government pressed their attack on Sianfu to within 25 miles of Marshal Chang's stronghold, capturing two mutinous battalions.

The military, convinced by Chang's ignoring of the central government's ultimatum to free the generalissimo that it was time to "quit talking" and use force, were pushing the retreating rebels back on Sianfu.

Despite the reports of the revolt's spread and the determined show of armed strength, hope still persisted that a peaceful solution could be found for the crisis.

COURT ORDER ISSUED PERMIT BRAZOS AND COLORADO DAM WORK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Judge Jennings Bailey of federal district court here issued an order today permitting the government to proceed with construction of flood control features of four proposed dams on the Colorado and Brazos rivers in Texas.

He modified and continued an injunction to March 1, 1937, under the terms of which various utility companies in Texas blocked any part of the construction which might be used for generation of hydro-electric power.

"Under the terms of this order, all strictly flood control work can go on as originally planned," said Alexander Holtzoff, special assistant attorney general, who has been handling the litigation. "Technically, it enlarges the exceptions granted us several months ago."

The Texas companies blocked any expenditure of federal funds last spring when they attacked the constitutionality of the public works administration and relief acts and the orders issued under them. They later joined the government in successful requests that the court permit strictly flood control work to proceed.

Bailey's order, among other things, provided:

The Buchanan dam on the Colorado shall be built to 982 feet above sea level and that a 30-foot space in the spillway above that height must be left open.

Return by the Reclamation Bureau of $5,000,000 to the lower Colorado river authority for use on the Hamilton dam.

Work costing not more than $700,000 may be done on the Inks dam, also on the Colorado.

A 30-foot opening in the spillway above the 600-foot level of the Marshall Ford dam on the Colorado.

The Brazos conservation and reclamation district may not spend more than $1,500,000 for the Possum Kinkdom dam on the Brazos.

No generators, turbines or other electrical equipment may be installed.

50TH ANNIVERSARY BEING CELEBRATED BY LOCAL CONCERN

THE OIL CITY IRON WORKS ROUNDS OUT HALF CENTURY OF SERVICE HERE

Congratulations are being received by the Oil City Iron Works from all parts of the state and surrounding areas in the Southwest served by this Corsicana firm that is now celebrating its fiftieth anniversary. Attractive greeting cars were sent out recently by the company commemorating the event.

The original plant was established in 1886 and was comprised of two branches, one a gin factory and the other a foundry. In 1897 the plant was acquired under lease by William Clarkson, Sr., and started operations under the present name. The unit was later purchased by Mr. Clarkson, and since 1919 his son, William Clarkson, Jr., has been the active head of the firm.

Since 1924 the plant has been entirely rebuilt and enlarged. It now makes a specialty of designing, oil field supplies, structural steel, foundry and machine shop work, and oil and gas engines; in addition they are wholesale distributors of hardware, plumbing, and mill supplies.

The company is now planning to begin production of the Humphrey patented oil field pumping unit which has been recently perfected, and it will be distributed through one of the larger oil field supply companies.

Officers of the firm which is now rounding out its half-century of activity are William Clarkson, Jr., president; H. L. Roberts, vice-president and manager; H. T. Braselton, secretary-treasurer and buyer; F. E. Dulaney is in charge of gin sales and Max Tatum represents the hardware division.

CONGRESS

rights" begin? Shall we define "general welfare" for once and all? Exactly what does "due process of law" mean?

So the questions run as legislators intent upon regulation of wages and hours and control of crop production re-study supreme court decisions bearing on those problems. In one respect the atmosphere is reminiscent of March, 1933, when congress and the country looked so unquestioningly to the president for leadership. Today again the lead is for him to take. His close advisors say they don't know what he intends; but quickly add it will not be retreat.

Never before was there an election in which the candidates pledge to seek a constitutional amendment "if necessary." Unless questions of wage and hour standards and "unfair business practices" can be answered effectively otherwise, the democratic platform called for an amendment looking to joint federal and state jurisdiction.

Mr. Roosevelt already has sought to encourage more state legislation on wages and hours, unemployment insurance and old age protection. He promised only recently to suplement the state action when the problems assume an interstate character.

In the general opinion, he will recomend attempts at voluntary co-operation and further legislative exploration of constitutional boundaries before broaching an amendment. He is not believed by advisors with proposals to curtail the power of the supreme court, or to enlarge its membership.

Hicks, Of Associated Press, Selects Year's 10 Best News Pictures

By WILSON HICKS

Associated Press Executive Assistant In Charge of News Photo Service.

The news camera's function is to tell a news story. The more dramatic the action, the more dramatic the picture and the better it is liked by newspaper readers. The best news picture is a human drama in one static scene.

Wilson Hicks

Picking the best news pictures of 1936 does not mean, therefore selecting the pictures which best illustrate the most important news stories. It means, rather, selecting the pictures which stand on their own feet as the best narrators of incidents in life; pictures which make those who look at them feel as if they were present when the incidents occurred.

The function of The Associated Press news photo service is to provide an impartial camera record of world-wide events. It remains, however, that pictures, probably more than words, produce emotions in readers.

Pictures Stir Emotions.

This factor has been taken into account in selecting the year's best news pictures, because pictures are "best" when they stir the imagination vividly and forcefully. But unless a news picture is meaningful to those who see it certainly it is not a "best' picture.

The second yardstick used in this selection is spontaneity. Many times a spontaneous news event reaches its climax before the photographer arrives. He then must do what he can to recapture the scene by recording its remaining tangible evidence.

Chance Plays Its Part.

Once in a while, brilliantly, a cameraman is on the scene when a "spot" event is in actual process of happening. The photographer knows well in advance that the President is to leave from Charleston for South America and is there to record a "spontaneous" event.

But when something occurs which no one could have predicted, and the cameraman is there, the picture becomes a "best" on its own intrinsic merit.

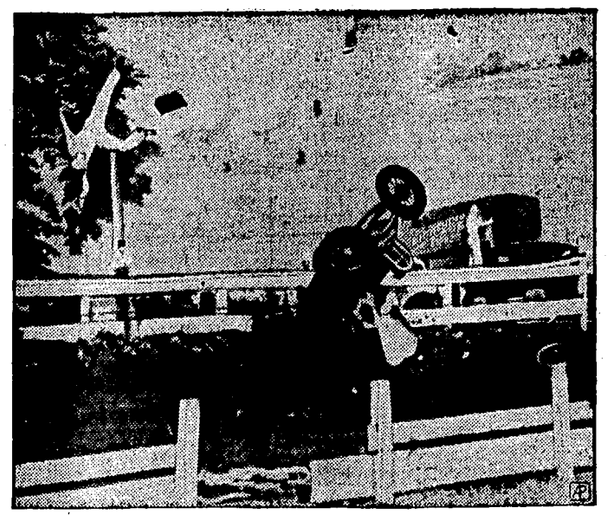

MRS. SIMPSON AND KING'S CHAUFFEUR—

Because it epitomized the "woman's angle" in the British royal crisis - - - Because it was the first noteworthy informal action picture of Mrs. Simpson near the beginning of the revelations of her relationships with Edward VIII.

CANDIDATES MEET—

Because of the rarity of the occasion it records—rival candidates for the Presidency meeting in good fellowship during a campaign. - - - One of the big picture moments in one of American history's most interesting vote contests.

'WILD BILL' CASSIDY—

Because here an unscheduled news story no photographer could have planned to cover was caught while it was occurring. - - - A freak accident picture, one in a million. By Associated Press Staff Photographer Wallace W. Lowry, Pittsburgh

ZIONCHECK OUSTS LANDLADY—

Because it isn't often a lawgiver has such an informal moment, and still less frequently that a cameraman is present when he does, Rep. Zioncheck did, and Charley P. Gorry of The Associated Press staff, Washington, D. C., was there!

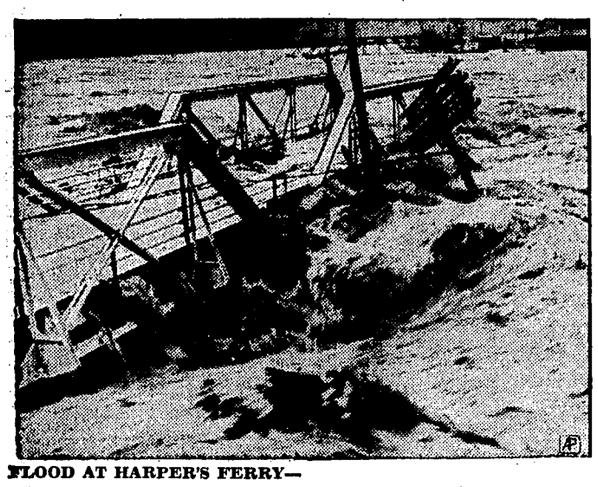

CRUCIFIXION, 1936—

Because this picture from Spain—one of the first on the civil strife—speaks dramatically of the passions unleashed by war. Taken by a Paramount News photographer, it shows the "execution" of a statue of Christ.

PRESIDENT AND GRANDDAUGHTER—

Because a baby picture, always good, is doubly so when the baby is the President's granddaughter. - - - Because informality in high places is news. Made at Hyde Park by W. E. O'Haire, Associated Press staff photographer from Washington, D. C.

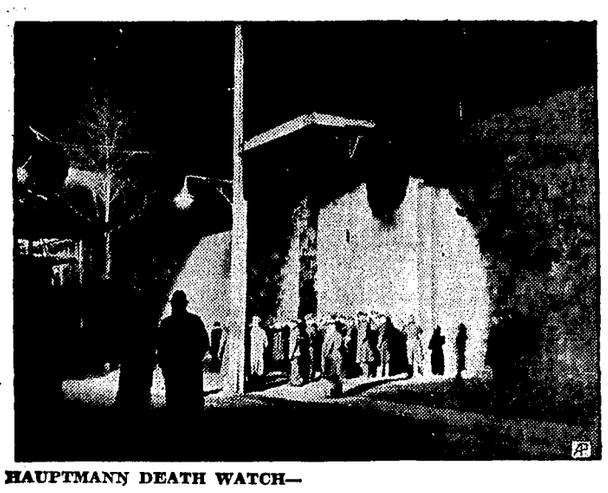

FLOOD AT HARPER'S FERRY—

Because, though it isn't unusual for a bridge to go out, it is unusual for the camera to catch that moment. - - - Because here is recorded all the fury of the usually peaceful Potomac gone mad. By Alex Malashuk of the Baltimore Evening Sun.

SCHMELING KAOES LOUIS—

Because it tells a story of victor and vanquished—in an unusual composition of this familiar theme - - - Because it gains unusual effect by stressing the third man. By John Lindsay, Associated Press staff photographer, New York.

HAUPTMANN DEATH WATCH—

Because, by implication, the story of Hauptmann's execution is told in a picture whose dramatic effectiveness really suggests more than the scene outside the death chamber. By John Lindsay, Associated Press staff photographer, New York.

KING EDWARD THREATENED—

Because with millions lining miles of streets, the camera found the needle in the haystack—George Andrew Mahon (at point of arrow) as police closed in on him just after he had slithered a pistol at Edward VIII (mounted, left).

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—The ten most interesting news developments of 1936, from the American viewpoint, as selected by J. M. Kendrick, executive news editor of The Associated Press:

1. Roosevelt

J. M. Kendrick

President Franklin D. Roosevelt again was the key point of interest and developments—all the more, emphatically so with his overwhelming reelection over Governor Alf Landon, of Kansas, the Republican nominee, following a bitter campaign, attack and defense of New Deal policies.

Early in the year, the supreme court held unconstitutional the agricultural adjustment act; likewise the Guffey act. But the president did not permit the power of the supreme court to become a dominant issue in the campaign.

Father Coughlin, Lemke and Townsend flopped, so far as the election was concerned.

The soldiers' bonus was paid. The social security act went into effect. The President opened the pan-American conference in Buenos Aires, receiving a record-breaking reception.

Business conditions improved generally throughout the country. There were widespread wage increases. There was a very sharp increase in dividend payments, the latter caused, in part, by the new surplus tax laws. Unemployment decreased, but remains very much of a problem.

2. Mrs. Simpson

The Simpson affair, which became known first through the American press and then developed into the issue between King Edward and his government, headed by Prime Minister Baldwin, after the news finally was printed in England—a story that goes into history with other great romances. The sensation came only a few months after the death of King George and cost Edward his throne.

3. Wars

War and threats of war; Italy won its war of conquest with Ethiopia; then the Spanish revolution took the headlines and became the dynamite spot in the ever-growing talk of another World war. Hitler reoccupied the Rhineland; denounced the Locarno pact; signed an agreement with Japan against Russia and the latter let the world—Germany and Japan, in particular—know it was ready for war; Japan continued its drive into China; saw several of its ministers assassinated in a military plot.

4. Hauptmann

The execution of Bruno Hauptmann, kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby.

5. Mary Astor

The Mary Astor child custody case, which brought to light a spicy diary, much to the discomfiture of playwright George Kaufman and numerous others connected with the motion picture industry.

6. Bad Weather

The spring floods in the east, the drought in the midwest and the tornadoes in the southeast, marked by a heavy loss of life and property damage.

7. Eleanor Holm

Eleanor Holm Jarrett, the swimmer who made no secret of her taste for champagne, gave Avery Brundage, the Olympic team chief, a real and interesting, though losing, battle for her place after she had been banned.

8. Louis' Flop

Max Schmeling, the German, knocked out Joe Louis and gave most sports writers a lesson in the fallacy of predictions. It was the greatest upset in a thrilling year of sports.

9. Labor Schism

The schism in the American Federation of Labor, with John L. Lewis on one side and William Green on the other.

10. Zioncheck

The humorous antics of Representative Marion Zioncheck, of Seattle, Wash., which changed into tragedy with his suicide.

Among the other leading stories of the year were: The Canadian "stork" derby; the Moose River, Nova Scotia, gold mine entombment and rescue; the rise of the popular front government in France; the martime strike; the beginning of regular trans-Pacific passenger flights by air; the Goodwin, Ark., plane crash, in which 17 persons lost their lives.

Many National Leaders On Year's Death List

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Biographical Editor

Death struck swiftly in 1936 against national leaders in politics, business and industry—with heart disease the chief weapon. Succumbing unexpectedly to this ailment were Joseph W. Byrns, speaker of the national house of representatives; Charles Curtis, former vice president; George H. Dern, secretary of war; Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida; Albert C. In industry and business the same malady felled Arthur W. Cutten, grain king; Oris P. Van Sweringen, rail magnate; John Hays Hammond, engineer, and Cyrus H. McCormick, inventor of the reaper.

APPEALS MADE NOT FORGET CHRISTMAS SEALS REMITTANCE

An appeal not to forget remittance for Christmas Seals in the rush of the holiday season was made today by Pansy Nichols, executive secretary of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, which is now conducting its annual Christmas seal campaign.

"Though the returns from this year's seal sale are considerably higher to date than for the same period last year," Miss Nichols said, "the fate of our campaign so far as reaching the necessary goal is concerned, is in the hands of hundreds of persons who still have the little seals and have not yet sent in their contribution. Most of this delay is probably due to procrastination. The payment was not sent when the seals were first received, and then the matter was forgotten.

"We shall make our goal if the overlooked seals are paid for. If only half of those who have not yet taken any action in this matter will send in their contribution, we shall have sufficient funds to carry on our work. If everybody who received seals by mail this year will contribute we can extend our work for the prevention of tuberculosis from the Panhandle to the Gulf, from the Red River to the Rio Grande."

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

Most likely there is no way of arriving at a just estimate of Richard Wagner, as a man. He was a liar, a cad, a sponger, a fool and a genius. Yet no matter what delightful diatribes one concocts, the answer is always "but listen to his music."

For us that is quite enough, for we don't have to live with him. For Minna Wagner the answer was not enough, however, nor was it quite enough for Mathilde Wesendonck, of whom poor bourgeois Minna was so jealous. Minna had lived with Wagner 22 years when his affair with Mathilde and "Tristan and Isolde" came to simultaneous climax. Even Mathilde, ready to imitate the Countess Marie d'Agoult who fled with Liszt many years before, was brought up short by the realization that however necessary she may have been in the composition of "Tristan," Wagner would recognize no choice if he had to decide between Mathilde and his music. It would be the music every time.

All this is the theme of William McNally's "Prelude to Exile," which just has been produced by the Theatre Guild. There are a gerat many finesses and even some important motives in the relations between the Wagners and the Wesendoncks which Mr. McNally has been forced to leave unexplored. He has telescoped several careers scandelously. But on the whole his play does give a fair analysis of Wagner, a reasonably fair analysis of Mathilde, and the McNally idea of Minna is (even if superficial) at least credible.

In other words, Mr. McNally has produced as likely a drama as could be expected when the subjects in question are as familiar as these. He also has produced a play which will be intelligible to any theater-goer or any reader.

Also with us is a new edition of Eugene O'Neill's "Nine Plays," done trickily out in a gold jacket, and issued because Sweden's inscrutable Nobel Prize committee had awarded Mr. O'Neill its 1936 literary prize. The book contains these plays, which is all anybody needs to know about it: "The Emperor Jones," "The Hairy Ape," "All Gods' Chillun Got Wings," "Desire Under the Elms," "Marco Millions," "The Great God Brown," "Lazarus Laughed," "Strange Interlude," "Mourning Becomes Electra."

"Prelude to Exile" by William McNally (Putnam); "Nine Plays" by Eugene O'Neill (Random House.)

CONCESSIONS FOR COTTON GROWERS IN TRADE AGREEMENTS

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 21.—(Special)—Concessions of direct benefit to the American cotton grower and manufacturer have been obtained in 13 of the 14 trade agreements thus far concluded, according to information supplied the Texas Extension Service by the U. S. Department of State.

Six countries—Cuba, Sweden, Canada, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Finland—have agreed to continue favorable treatment accorded imports of American raw cotton. Two countries—Cuba and Guatemala, have reduced the duty on cotton seed oil. Two countries—Cuba and Sweden—have granted concessions on cottonseed cake. Five countries—Cuba, Canada, Colombia, Guatemala and France—have granted concessions on cotton yarn, and ten countries have granted concessions on various cotton textile manufactures.

In the negotiation of trade agreements every effort has been made to insure the continued free entry of American raw cotton into the countries concerned, as well as to increase foreign buying power by enabling foreign countries to sell us more of their goods. During the first year of the agreement with Belgium imports into that country from the United States increased 23 per cent. There was an increase of only five per cent in imports into Belgium from all other countries during that period. Imports of American cotton (already on Belgium's free list) increased by 132 per cent, while imports of cotton from all other countries decreased by nine and four-tenths per cent.

In 13 of the agreements concessions have been obtained on tires and automobiles and the products of other industries which are important consumers of cotton, thus indirectly benefiting cotton and cotton manufacturing industries.

Vera, 9, Snubs Santa In Christmas Painting

HANDS AROUND THE CHRISTMAS TREE — By Vera Baker

Vera Baker, aged 9, is the youngest person in the world to have a painting in a museum, which makes her an artist of some consequence. When asked to paint a picture expressing the Christmas spirit, she executed the above. "I am not sure she believes in Santa Claus, because she didn't seem to want to paint him," said her father, who delivered the picture. "Besides, no matter what you ask her to paint, she usually paints just what comes into her mind." Like Rembrandt and other masters, she managed to get herself into the composition. She's the one in pigtails. Vera's watercolor, "Yentas," hangs in the permanent collection of the Museum of Madern Art, New York City.

Shower for Bride On December 15 At Home in Drane

On December 15th, in the hospitable home of Mrs. Dan Taylor, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Neece and Mrs. J. L. Sutton, one of the loveliest bridal showers of the season was given in honor of Mrs. Katherine Sutton Elrod. The Christmas decorations of green, red and silver were very beautiful.

The guests began arriving quite early, where they found Miss Fay Sutton, lovely sister of the bride, presiding over the bride's book. Games were played and enjoyed, then the arrival of the lovely and charming bride, after which more games of fun and mirth.

The bride was then led to the beautifully decorated dining room where she found the dining table, groaning under its load of beautiful and expensive gifts. After the girls were opened by the bride, they were passed around to the eager guests. Following this, Mrs. Dan Taylor gave a toast to the bride, which was enjoyed very much.

Then refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served to sixty guests. The occasion will long be remembered by those in attendance as being one of the most pleasant afternoons in quite awhile, also wishing the lovely bride a very, very happy life.

—One of the Guests.

BEAUTY CHATS

—By EDNA KENT FORBES—

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes' column followers must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (e.a.s.e) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated pamphlet, "BEAUTY," ten cents in stamps with fully a. a. s. e. must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

REALLY BEAUTIFUL TEETH.

MOUTH BEAUTY

The mouth is only a frame for the teeth, which must flash to make a charming smile. Miss Forbes tells you how to beautify your teeth.

My dentist is a very clever man, and, like all good dentists, tremendously overworked. His interest is chiefly in keeping his patients' visits down to a minimum so as to leave him with more time for the really difficult work that he delights in. We would not, he says, have to come to him nearly so often if we kept our teeth properly clean, but, as he has despaired of any of us doing this job correctly, he finally invented a toothbrush which has certainly helped us a lot.

E. K. Forbes

Now, wouldn't you think, with so many hundreds of patterns of toothbrushes on the market, that one of them would be ideal? But, no, he disapproves of the lot. So he called in the representative of a manufacturing company, and between them they invented the ideal toothbrush. If you can't buy it, and you probably cannot, you might possibly imitate it from my description.

First of all, it is very small. The children's size has a special slender handle and exactly seven small bunches of bristles, the seventh one being stuck ahead of the first two so as to make a tight little wedge of three bunches of bristles together. The grown-ups is a larger, but still a very small affair, with nine sets of bristles, four rows of two and two and the ninth standing slightly ahead to make the front solid wedge of bristles.

There are not only fewer tufts to the brush, but fewer bristles to each tuft, causing you to work twice as hard to get your teeth clean. The chief value, however, is that this small-headed brush really gets back of the teeth, between each tooth and behind the last teeth, a spot which the large-bristled brushes never reach at all.

My suggestion to you is that you buy and use a child's size toothbrush instead of a big bristly one.

Peggie.—You should never drag, or pull, the skin while giving yourself a massage. Of course, you are too young to have a crepy-looking neck. If you do not know how to massage, you will do much better to confine your efforts to those of exercises. You may also give the skin oil to counteract the dryness, and just apply it without attempting a massage. An excellent exercise is that of rolling the head around over the shoulder, back, and around to the front again.

CONTINUE WORK OF TICK ERADICATION IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Employees of the Livestock Sanitary commission of Texas inspected or dipped 165 herds and a total of 2,473 cattle in Navarro county during the month of November in the work of cleaning out all fever tick infestation, according to the report made to the commission. A total of $208.26 was spent during the month by the Livestock commission.

Thirty herds and a total of 250 head of cattle are being held for further systematic treatment.

There were no tick quarantine violations reported in the county during November.

This tick eradication work has been under way for several months following the finding of cattle here brought in from quarantined counties in Southeast Texas.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 1 lower to 4 higher with liquidation being absorbed by trade buying, Jan. 12.19; March 12.23; May 12.13; July 12.03; Oct. 11.72; Dec. 11.68.

Trading was quiet in a pre-holiday market, price changes during the first half hour being narrow and somewhat irregular. There was a disposition to sell the nearby positions against purchases of the distant. Some of the early buying came from Liverpool and the far east while hedge selling was light. There was realizing in advance of the holidays through commission houses and some New Orleans selling.

The census bureau reports on cotton ginnings prior to December 13th of 11,704,980 bales was about in line with expectations. It compared with 9,754,578 bales ginned to the same date last year and 11,405,611 prior to December 1st this year. March eased from 12.24 to 12.20 and was selling at 12.21 late in the first hour when prices generally were 1 point net lower to 2 higher.

Liverpool reported a quiet market but a steady tone prevailed owing to settlement of the threatened Lancashire mill strike over the week-end.

The market was quiet but prices eased a few points under moderate hedging and liquidation while trade buying was limited to a scale-down. Cotton goods markets opened the week quietly but prices were said to be steady. March reacted to 12.19 and at midday was selling at 12.20 when prices generally were net unchanged to 3 points lower.

New Orleans Cotton Higher.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Cotton moved up a few points at the opening of the market today on the strength of a bullish ginnings report and favorable Liverpool cables.

Business did not appear in volume, but a good trade demand appeared. March opened at 12.18, May at 12.10, July at 11.99 and Oct. at 11.67.

During the first minutes of trading the market held narrowly around these levels.

The Census Bureau reported ginnings of 11,704,980 bales, a total considerably under trade expectations.

Some held that it would be impossible to obtain the 700,000 bales necessary from this season's crop to bring it to the estimated total of 12,400,000 bales.

Liverpool reported the settlement of the cotton mill strike had helped prices there.

Investment demand in distant months was noted in the English marke.

The market slipped off a few points during the morning, more the result of inactivity than because of any particular pressure on prices.

The ring took on a holiday appearance with most important trade and spec. interests on the sidelines. There was hedge selling in later months but the market presented a quiet front.

March sold at 12.14, May 12.05, July at 11.95 and October at 11.65. These prices represented a decline of two to four points from Saturday's finals.

A large spot house reported the basis for spot cotton was being well maintained and in some cases had moved higher. Certain qualities of white cotton were said to be very scarce and eagerly sought by both domestic and foreign spinners.

N. Y. Cottonseed Oil Easy.

STRIKES

week end shut-downs, although persons close to the motorcar industry said that strikes in parts plants had caused serious shortages of supplies.

The Ford Motor Company said its Rouge plant, where 87,000 men are employed, was operating normally.

The night shift there was unable to work Friday night because of a shortage of brake drums and shoes supplied by the Kelsey-Hayes Company, whose workers are on strike. The Ford assembly plant at Cincinnati remained closed. The Buffalo, N. Y. plant curtailed operations last week.

In Windsor, Ont., the management of the Canadian Kelsey-Hayes company said a skeleton force was at work. The United Automobile Workers of America said, however, that only a few non-union workmen had passed through their picket lines.

Conference Asked With General Motors

DETROIT, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, telegraphed to William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors Corporation, a request for a conference today "in view of the present extremely troubled situation in the automobile industry and particularly in reference to General Motors."

The request was sent a short time after John Brophy, a director of John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization, arrived in Detroit to meet with Martin and other U. A. W. officials who have said they would ask General Motors to institute collective bargaining with employes.

Resumption of production on full schedule after customary week-end shutdowns was announced by major automobile companies today although informed observers said serious supply shortages existed because of strikes affecting parts manufacturers.

Martin's telegram to Kundsen said that "the present crisis which makes necessary this conference has been brought about by the flagrant discharge of and discrimination against union men in your various plants, and the speed of the line which has been set without consideration for the workers' welfare and the lack of job security through the absence of seniority rights and numerous other complaints."

Another CIO representative, Allan Haywood of the United Mine Workers, joined in a conference at the automobile workers headquarters today. The Flat Glass Workers union, now engaged in a widespread strike in that industry, also is a CIO member and has an agreement with the U. A. W. for joint action in the automotive industry.

New Steel Workers' Union.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—(AP)—A new organization of steel workers—the committee for industrial organization's representatives council—sounded the rallying cry "the company union must be put out of business" in the mills of the east today.

Cheering and whistling, 244 men claiming to represent 290,000 workmen in 42 mills east of Cleveland, organized the new group and pledged full support to the drive to enlist the nation's 500,000 steel workers in one big union—the Amagamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

ing volcano after the quake.

Government officials returning last night from the disaster area said the widespread wreckage was impeding rescue work and making virtually impossible any accurate estimate of the property damage and loss of life.

Among the neighboring villages damaged, according to radio reports last night, were Vera Paz, Guadalupe, Ajastepewue, Petitan, San Sebastian, San Lorenzo and Pectluca.

A special Red Cross train, with rescuers and modern equipment, was sent from San Salvador to San Vicente. Those returning from the scene said the quake leveled all but one of the city's main buildings.

to ask for information on the fate of the crew of the Konsomol, which was said to have been attacked near British-owned Gibraltar.

He made no protest, however, the embassy spokesman said, adding: "In fact, no protests have been made of any kind since Russia does not recognize the fascist regime."

As Great Britain also has not recognized the insurgents as belligerents, informed sources said, interference with British ships would be considered piracy.

The British government attempted to avoid this complication, however, by passing a new law to forbid British vessels from carrying arms to Spain.

Seek More Details.

MOSCOW, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Russia will lodge a strong protest with the international non-intervention committee in London over the sinking of the motorship Konsomol by Spanish fascists, informed sources predicted today.

Foreign office officials unsuccessfully sought details of the incident. The government charged the ship was "set fire to and sunk by Spanish fascists last Monday."

(The alleged attack on the Konsomol was believed to have taken place near Gibraltar after the ship siled Dec. 5 from Poti.)
